No Mow

Some of the children have been talking about how important insects are for plant growth and health. They have been thinking about all the plants that are good for bees. Did you know that dandelions are great for bees as they produce more nectar and pollen than most other flowers? Bees also mark the flowers with a scent that tells other bees that the flower has already been visited!! Please think about not mowing the whole lawn and leave some wildflowers for the insects. We shall shortly be sowing the 'turnaround' outside school with wild flowers as well.
